PEP Golf is Good For Business

Attending the 10th Annual PEP Golf Invitational on May 7, can be very good for business. Come join 220+ other local business professionals for a day of golf, good food, prizes and the chance to make new and stronger business relationships. Whether you sponsor a team of clients or play yourself there is something to be gained by being a part of one of the best tournaments in town. There is still room at every sponsorship level, but reserve your team now—you don't want to end up on the waiting list.

As part of your PEP membership, you have the opportunity to advertise your business to all the golfers—even if you don't play. Show your support and market your business by donating a tournament sponsorship, providing promotional items for golfer gift bags, or donating a door prize. Gift bag items need to be received by April 26th at J.H. Wright. (continued on reverse)

PEP & BPS in the Media

Be sure to check out the April issue of the Business View, the Mobile Area Chamber of Commerce monthly magazine. The Envision Coastal Alabama section will have an article highlighting its newest partner, PEP and the By-Product Synergy Central Gulf Coast project. PEP's executive director, Jennifer Denson, is the new co-chair of Envision's Environmental Committee.

Envision Coastal Alabama facilitates co-operative action for a unified coastal region with a healthy environment, sustainable economic development, equity for all and excellence in education.

PEP Energy Committee

In December 2009, the PEP Board of Directors established an Energy Study Committee to revise and expand PEP's 2006 Energy Policy. More than 19 PEP members have committed their time, knowledge and expertise to the task. The Committee is co-chaired by Steve Perry, Harris & DeVille (the Forum) and Jim Backes, Hargrove Engineers + Constructors.

On February 5th, the committee held its first meeting. Two working groups were established. The External Policy Review subcommittee will review the policies and agendas of other local, regional and national corporations, business associations and environmental groups. The Internal Policy Revision subcommittee will take a first crack at revising the PEP policy to address all areas of the energy debate. Consistent with our mission, the committee will rely on information based on facts and on sound scientific principles.

If you are interested in serving on the Energy committee, please contact Jennifer Denson.
